

Dear Rob,

Many thanks for dropping off yet another invaluable supply of construction timber for the Design and Technology Faculty. We cannot deliver the range and quality of D&T courses without having the continual support from local companies like Finlog.

Our students are able to design and manufacture a wide range of fantastic projects selecting appropriate materials and resources from your kind donations.

East Barnet School greatly appreciates its community links with ex-students and local companies such as yours and hope that it may long continue.

Thank you and best wishes

Ian Jenkins

Head of Design and Technology
